

THANKS TO YOU, THE DREAM FLIES.

On December 15, the Boeing 787 Dreamliner took to the sky for the first time as thousands watched in person and around the world. This historic flight marks another critical milestone for the Dreamliner as it progresses toward certification and customer delivery.

From the beginning, the dream was nothing less than to revolutionize commercial air travel. Now, thanks to the tireless dedication of Boeing employees and our global team, along with the ongoing support of the Puget Sound community and our customers, that dream has taken flight.
